In addition to the existing Superbrands label, an additional criterion - ecological responsibility was introduced. The Green Superbrands label can only get branded brands with high environmental awareness. This mark represents a new way of brand-customer recommendation, which is increasingly focusing on environmental conservation and social responsibility.

By awarding Superbrands and Superbrands Green, we have gained public quality assurance of our products and services, not only by professionals, but also by consumers - groups of people whose positive feedback is very important to us.
